During Saturday it had been Maya's birthday and we had a party.

Maureen had been down and had stayed for the night.

The boat has a bad leg and this is what goes on Allen's mind.

Though the weekend we achieved very little work as far as note went but were involved in a lot of activity which meant us being very tired.

I hope next weekend will be better and dearly hope I can say I have met my Jennie.