Dear Morven,

It was lovely to receive your telephone call. I hope that you have by now received my parcel and a tape from Kevin Carlyon., which includes Alex's last interview.

You are probably astounded by the press reports. I enclose some more. It is now rumoured that Victor is finishing his education in America.

As you will see honouring Maxine has been a losing battle. She has now declared that I am not even Wicca and not Alexandrian either. (Maxine, by the way was never initiated by Alex.) I feel I have to ramble on about this subject for a little while as I don't know quite how much you understand. and I am wanting to put the whole matter behind me now -as I cannot do anything more and there are other matters to which I must turn my attention.

Victor seems to have succumbed to the pressure and has not been in contact. Maxine held a council consisting of a few female friends to which I at one time was invited but in the event the meeting took place without my knowledge.

Alexandrians such as yourself, along with hundreds of others do not seem to exist for her either. She still has not discussed anything with me and is not now likely to do so. I would not take much notice of her now even if she did - I am still recovering from the shock of her duplicity and her lies. I think Alex and I were rather too innocent.

Be that as it may, Alex acted in good faith and trusted Maxine to the lastno wonder she went to such pains to avoid any discussion and has now taken great trouble to sever him from the Earth Plane!

Alex has left messages with many people over the three days of his passing in this country and in Germany and I am asking everyone to send me copies of these reports as you have promised to do. I will in turn send to you copies from here and Germany. There is a great wonder at this phenomenon. The spirit world still remains active upon his behalf...I have fresh evidence of this nearly every day.. His premature death means that his work upon the Earth is yet to be finished. This was established in the last messages from the Spirit Worlds. He made elaborate arrangements for contact with me and others through the technology of the "Machine" which is a two way communicating device, that can project astral forms to anywhere upon Earth. He has also of course his many friends to help him.

Victor has confirmed that Alex transferred his power to him two days before his death. This confirms what I already knew. So the power for the Kingship has been passed on. Maxine no doubt will eventually realise that her power is no longer held for her by Alex.

There are many faithful to Alex's work but these are not often the ones who enjoy publicity or phoney power. Among these are those who have turned away from the first witches that Alex taught and established, in disgust; for some of these witches seek now to maintain the same autocracy that they enjoyed when they were the only few in the sixties.

I am now discovering about the Wicca. In the past I have had little cause to be thankful to the brotherhood... except for Gill Sanders, Alex's last wife who was part of the magic for a time and helped him and loved him. Gill is also about as acceptable to Maxine as I am. It has been Alex and I alone in the centre with the magic and the spirit. Others came for guidance and help and this was given freely, regardless of Alexandrian initiation, and personality. Betty and Aliester were friends which he saw every week in recent years and lately Stanley who is now helping me with communications. Betty is supportive also.

I have by the way received all my magical grades, all my Wicca grades and have been initiated into Egypt. I have continued to receive initiations into the New Age and Space right upto the present time. I think sometimes that I must be the most initiated Alexandrian ever.

Alex and I shared the same journey for a while but it has been pointed out by the spirit world that his journey and my journey is not the same journey. They likened us magically to a coin. He was one side of the coin and I was the other. The coin spun. The whole in motion was our work. In the mundane world we had very little in common. We shared the magic and the spirit.

In the last few days Alex looked back and declared that the time of our working was a totally magical time. We both realised that we had been living in a magical cocoon. Outside realities had been strictly monitored; disturbance to the work had been reduced to a minimum. Time within time and time now for me to live the times promised and unfulfilled -still a part of our work together, which health and finance and other people prevented. So a workshop seminar is planned for Germany this Summer. We will then, I hope, have enough funds to come to America.

I am discovering now that the brotherhood does exist. Personality and politics has prevented me from finding out before. I have many offers of expertise and scholarship. I am busy communicating. Finances are desperately low.

The Kings Council

The last instruction received from the Spirit World through Alex's mediumship was to form the Kings Council consisting of four high priests, four high priestesses, one female leader and one male leader, a cat and a dog. I was told to gather together all the important bits of the work and continue to publish. This council would be plenty and enough for the guidance and support of Victor and for the organising and continuation of the work.

The conversation beforehand had been based upon the supposition that Maxine would not go along with the arrangements that Alex had made for Victor. (Victor had said that she would not allow it and my attempts to change her mind and compromise have failed). At that time, within a week of Alex's death, we were both assured of Victor's willingness.

The Kings Council is in no way concerned with the " Crownship" as Alex described it. This is Witch Queen business. Therefore Victor has a seat with me upon this the Kings Council, -named so after his father. A seat has been promised for him in many other places as well. It maybe that other groups who offer him the Kings Seat will call there council the Kings Council. It would be wonderful if all such groups could be in harmony and in communication with each other.

I hope in time to come, when Victor has realised his initiations which he received in 1979 and 1980, that he will be able to form, with the help of his own priestess, his own council in a democratic way from the Witch Queens from all over the world.

The principle of a King is more important to me than the personalities involved. It is a magical and mystical and a spiritual reality that can be helpful to one and all. In 1979 this was established in quite a different way than heretofore, with a precise ritual that was used for the crowning of a Pharaoh. (I am told there are similarities in the crowning ceremonies of our own royal family.)

The magic took. The reality began manifesting in the work in the Temple. This was more than just another ceremony taken from the shelf.

I do not agree with the idea that a Wicca Kingship should be a dictatorship in a temporal sense or that it should be an imposition, nor do I believe that we should turn the clock back and live in fear of bloody murder amongst ourselves. The misguided and ignorant, of which there are many in this country, regard this as the "Sacred Feast". Such unevolved ideas serve only to propagate domination and subjection through fear. The self sacrifice necessary for a spiritual mission is more than enough as it is. I have seen the Corn King go in fear of his life., looking over his shoulder to see if he could spot his assassin - a familiar face -perhaps from London. When I took over as the Corn King I had similar experience. I was appalled.

A Wicca Kingship is a leadership and a service to the World. I doubt that any one man could possess all the knowledge and wisdom and specialist abilities to perform the task single handed. No Pharaoh in Ancient Egypt did. They ruled, as we do, with the help of experts and many talents. In Ancient Egypt there were many temples and trades and professions.

Everyone of us, we are taught is individual. The Goddess has made no two of us the same. Each one of us can see her differently. Each one is equally precious to Her. Every initiation is unique and a treasure.

The High Priestess of Alex's work and my work was, and still is Queen Hapisheput. She has manifested the Great Mother Herself.

The details of the work which is to be published in the future will establish this beyond doubt.

A strong American influence through our guides Redfeather (Alex's) and Silver Eagle (mine) exist and it has been said that the movement of the mainstream of initiation for the New Age is to move to the West -to America. -I believe that there is evidence of this now. In 1980 we were told that there is a more child like acceptance of new ideas there and less stupidity and bigotry,... ..not to mention powerhouse politics.. (I have added that to the message)

I told Maxine of the Kings Council and offered her a place upon it. She accepted at the time and I rejoiced at the thought that this would help her to do nothing about the Kingship for the time being but to accept the principle, to be involved with me and Victor and many others in a new beginning.

It is now apparent that she wishes to have nothing to do with me. It seems that she only recognises her own handful of autocratic friends who would agree with her for her council. - The Queens Council I suppose....

There are thousands of witches who will not look to a single personality dictatorship with anything but scorn. I have discovered though, that they will support a democratic idea in which their voice may be heard and their efforts recognised and respect the work of a council or group that has expertise and scholarship.

I do not see that these broader ideas inhibit the discipline necessary for any particular group working. I imagine that you in America take for granted some of these points that I have made. I will now say no more and leave you with the press reports.

I must add that Maxine is a dame of the Ordine Della Luna. Perhaps it will be politic for me to use the Ordine Della Nova. Alex's work though should I feel still go under the banner of Ordine Della Luna.

I will be most pleased to hear your counsel and to hear from American Alexandrians and others and New Age initiates.

Theresa (Her pen name is Dr. Vivianne Crowley BSc (Lond), PhD(Lond) has agreed to help me and will be coming as a speaker along with myself to Germany. By the way she has had a recent spirit world communication regarding Alex and her collaboration with me. I was able to recognise this communication as genuine and very much to the point. It is so exciting!

Gill Sanders who is known as a Witch Queen in Germany is planning to support the venture with her presence. She became popular there when she visited with Alex. Gill will speak of magical experiences and her initiation as a Sea Priestess. She is also gifted at the Tarot. Theresa will deal with the classical definitions of psychology and how they relate to initiation. She will also deal with the subject of the Nordic Gods and the Celtic upon the Tree of Life. I will be speaking upon the subject of New Age communication methods with Extra Terrestrials. I will speak an introduction and answer what questions I can. I will introduce a magical system from one of the Grimoirs that Alex and I did together. I hope that the workshop will also be a learning one for myself. I hope to attract some of the New Age people and to help the Knights of Lippe with the work at the Externsteine. So far that is all that has been planned....any more ideas... and would such a seminar be welcome in America?

I am now finishing the introduction to the Nova transcripts and bringing the notes upto date. This will be a book that will be on sale shortly. It will be also printed in German. I hope to be able to have the book on sale in America too. The Spirit World have insisted that I act quickly.

I enclose a piece of magical amethyst, from the power house of Catalyst (over one hundred pounds) which split in order to distribute the power for the work all over the world . This happened in the early Summer of last year before the event of the Apocalypse. You may charge other amethysts from the connecting link of the original. I am giving a piece to every child born between the months of April and June of this year. From these births will come the Magical Children of the Apocalypse.

I will end now but I will write again shortly. I enclose also some addresses for you. My love to you and to your group and to Darcy... Hi there Maiden!

Blessed be

Derek
