Dear Alex,

Just a letter to say I'm sorry I haven't been to see you lately - I've been working since I last saw you, and the weather has been awful as you know.

Anyway, another reason that I'm writing to you is that there was an appeal in the 'South Wales Echo' newspaper the other night. Basically, there is a pub in Cardiff called the 'Queen Glyndwr'. At the moment it's closed for repairs, but they are looking for any descendants of Glyndwr to perform a ceremonial opening of the pub when it reopens in September/October. Would you be interested in performing the opening? If so, get in touch and I'll approach the 'Echo' or the brewery on your behalf. I expect they'd pay your travelling / hotel expenses, so you could get a free holiday in Wales! I read somewhere that you are descended from Gylodur himself, so you are an ideal candidate.

I'm sorry to hear you've been ill. I saw Nigel and Selding recently at a psychic fair in Cardiff, and they said you'd been in hospital. I hope you're alot better now.

Since I last saw you I have managed to form a small coven, my last one was wrecked by one of your old initiates from the 70's, namely Gerry Greenlade. He turned up and caused a whole lot of trouble, culminating in the disintegration of my old group.

I saw you a few months back on a BBC documentary on the craft. You've been much scored for that TV appearance, but to me you were just doing something different! After all, there have been countless sabbat rituals, etc filmed for TV and the press. By the way, I thought Gill looked absolutely beautiful as the Sea Priestess.

Anyway, I'll close for now. Please let me know if you'd like me to follow up the pub opening matter, it would be lovely to see you again.

B.B.

Peter*
