Dear Derek

I enclose a modified version of the circle casting. What I have done is, as it were, stripped the varnish off my version and gone back to the original wood and taken another look at it.

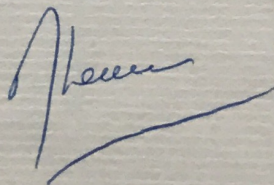

This version uses the format from "Drawing Down the Moon" in the Book of Shadows with a form of words for the circle casting which is basically that for "Forming the Circle" which appears further on in the Book of Shadows.

I have left the watchtower invoking as it is, because I think using the elemental pentagrams and the elemental symbol is helpful for invoking the element.

I have also included "Drawing Down the Moon" which invokes the Goddess once the circle has been formed. If I am doing an initiation, I usually do the Drawing Down the Moon first and say the Great Charge here instead of the rhyming Charge. This is instead of reading the Charge later in the initiation rite. I think it works quite well if the Priest says the two introductory bits to the two main sections of the Charge. I have set these out as well.

I hope this is OK. I will give you a ring on Friday evening before I go out when hopefully you should have received this.

Love and Blessed Be
