Take it to your circle well covered up and polish it well to return it to its original lustre and on the night of the full moon take the pentacle and place it upon the altar and let the light of the full moon fall upon it. Then engrave upon it all symbols of the first degree initiation. There is a lot of work implied here. And as the engraving is done say

"I score this dish, I gain the power,
Earth will be mine, in field or tower,
Kerry be with me, Marianne be bright,
With Arianrhod and charge this pure plate of moonlight."

The scoring of the surface of the pentacle is akin to the scoring of the Witch or the letting of blood.

The pentacle is perfumed with musk and other incenses and put away ready for work.

That is the way you charge all the pentacles you make no matter what designs you devise and design according to your own ingenuity and what you think absolutely symbolises and is apt for whatever you want to do. If you can't use your imagination get hold of the Key of Solomon. The pentacle is the most passive of the eight tools being of Earth, it has the lowest vibrations of energy. Because of this it is the most stable and it is used as a channel to act for the power flows. This keeps the power on one side of the pentacle only and it doesn't pass through to anywhere else or deviate. For this reason the pentacle can be used as a shield against all source of attacks whether they be invoked or evoked elemental forces of unsympathetic vibration or directed psychic attack. All you need to do is hold the pentacle towards where you know the direction of incoming force is coming from. With the main pentagram facing upwards. To use the pentacle to draw power into yourself stand within the circle facing West holding the pentacle aloft with both hands. With the spirit point of the pentagram facing you chant three times
